Are you an aspiring black, Asian and minority ethnic (BAME) leader?

Stepping Up is a leadership development programme for BAME colleagues in bands 5 to 7 (or equivalent) roles who work within healthcare (the NHS or an organisation providing NHS care). The programme is designed to bridge the gap between where applicants are and where they need to be, to progress into more senior roles.
“I feel more confident and able to harness the power of cultural heritage to improve my abilities as a leader.”

David Van de Velde,
Nurse,
Central and North West NHS Foundation Trust

“The Stepping Up programme was suggested to me by my line manager. It made me see things in a very different light. It gave me the confidence to constructively challenge, to continue to seek promotion, to value the input of peers.”

Margaret Lynes,
Inspection Manager,
Care Quality Commission
